I'm Pregnant...Now What?

Nevada City, CA – November is National Adoption Awareness Month. To commemorate, Mardie Caldwell, an award winning author, has released the new book, "So I Was Thinking About Adoption," written for women who find themselves in the "what do I do now" situation when facing unplanned pregnancy. Unplanned pregnancies are at an all-time high. The book explores the roadmap of personal choice with compelling real stories from birth mothers, and provides real answers and 'where to get help' resources. Mardie Caldwell is a television personality, radio talk show host and national expert on adoption and Certified Open Adoption Practitioner is available for interviews.

Pro-Life, Pro-Choice, what about Pro- Adoption? is a thought-provoking socially relevant topic. Three out of five people are touched by adoption in some way, but for many, adoption is a topic mired in misunderstanding....to get some clarity, book Mardie on your show!

For more information about adoption or Caldwell, or to schedule an interview, please contact American Carriage House Publishing at 1-877-423-6785, 530-913-1223 for immediate interviews or visit www.IWasThinkingAboutAdoption.com.
